SERVING PHILADELPHIA'S WESTERN SUBURBS

POSH COLLECTIONS There's a lot of fun stuff packed into this petite boutique, from casual tees to stylish suits for the working gal. Hot this season: plush, long sweaters with cropped sleeves, layered with long-sleeve tees and turtlenecks. Shin Choi and Whim are among those leading this trend, with soft yarns spun into styles that transform Saturday-afternoon street wear into Saturday-night chic—and business attire into something far more hip. And don't be shocked by the sudden inundation of knit pants from the likes of Vince; their clean lines are designed to complement all those cozy car sweaters they'll be layered under. White is still a great look for fall—and if you want to make a statement, A.B.S. has an ivory "pea" dress that looks fabulous paired with a black turtleneck and tall boots. 103 E.
